

30th ANNIVERSARY OF SHERMAN'S MARCH TOUR SET FOR FEBRUARY 23

Join Dr. John Derden, Professor Emeritus of History at East Georgia State College, for a day tour through Emanuel, Jenkins, and Burke Counties retracing the route of Sherman's soldiers as they moved through the area on their way to the coast. Participants will travel some of the actual roads traversed by Sherman's soldiers and defended by Confederate troops, see several camp sites actually used by the general, and visit Antebellum plantation sites.

In addition, Dr. Derden, who has published the first full-length, documented history of Camp Lawton (The World's Largest Prison: The Story of Camp Lawton [Mercer University Press, 2012]), will lead a tour of Camp Lawton, the Confederate prison located on the grounds of what is now Magnolia Springs State Park, and give an illustrated talk about its history.

Participants will gather at 9:00 a.m. for a pre-trip orientation at the Fulford Center. Lunch and transportation will be provided for the day, and the tour will return to the Center by 6 p.m.

Sponsored by the Office of Institutional Advancement at East Georgia State College, the tour fee (which includes all expenses) is $80 per person. EGSC student tickets are $10 per person. Registration deadline is February 21. If interested, please call Elizabeth Gilmer at (478) 289-2037 to reserve a seat.

Message From The Director

Our 2019 Total Wellness series begins this month, and I hope you will plan to join us. Our first session is set for February 26 and will focus on financial wellness. The presentation is Finishing the Race: Understanding Long Term Care Costs and Retirement Income and is made possible through a partnership with UGA Extension, Emanuel Medical Center, Queensborough National Bank & Trust, East Georgia Healthcare Center, CarePartners of Georgia, and East Georgia State College. Lunch, a presentation, and door prizes are provided at each session. Enrollment is limited to 20, and registration is required. If you have questions or would like to register, please give us a call at 289-2464. We hope to see you on the 26th!
